

Permission to show

For churches, schools and ministries · Updated September 2026

LJ & Family episodes may be shown, free of charge, by churches, Sunday schools, VBS and holiday club programs, Christian schools, homeschool groups, children's hospitals and family ministries.

PERMISSION TO SHOW

J2 Sutton Capital Group LLC, producer and copyright holder of LJ & Family, grants your group permission to publicly show LJ & Family episodes to the children and families you serve, at no cost and with no licence fee, for as long as the conditions below are met. You do not need to write and ask first — this page is the permission.

What we ask

- Play the episodes from our YouTube channel (youtube.com/@LJandFamilyTV) rather than from a downloaded copy. Streaming is what keeps the series going.
- Keep the credits on screen, including the closing card. Please don't cut, re-edit, re-voice, re-upload or re-title the episodes.
- Don't charge admission to a showing, and don't sell the episodes or the printed materials. Taking a normal offering at a service is fine.
- Print the guides freely. The family guides, lesson plans and coloring pages may be copied in any quantity for the families and volunteers in your group.
- Tell us how it went. Not a condition — we would just love to hear it.

Showing it well

- Episodes run about two to three minutes, which makes them a lesson opener rather than a lesson filler. The matching lesson plan builds a 20-minute class around each one.
- Captions are available in English, Spanish, Portuguese (Brazil) and French — useful for mixed-language congregations and for children who read along.
- Every episode is set to Made for Kids on YouTube, so comments are off and there are no personalised ads.
- Turn on full screen before the children are watching, and have the video queued and paused. The first ten seconds are quiet on purpose.

WHAT WE CANNOT GRANT

This permission does not cover broadcast or cable television, streaming services, paid events or ticketed screenings, or use of the LJ & Family characters, artwork or name on merchandise, curriculum you sell, or your own productions. For any of those, write to us — the answer is often yes, it just needs to be in writing.

Questions, or anything not covered here: hello@ljandfamily.com

LJ & Family™ is a production of J2 Sutton Capital Group LLC, 12 Theodore Street, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22406. Episodes, characters, artwork and guides © J2 Sutton Capital Group LLC. This permission may be updated; the current version is always at ljandfamily.com.